ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

At APA, we acknowledge the Traditional Owners and Custodians of the lands on which we live and work throughout Australia. We acknowledge their connections to land, sea and community.

We pay our respects to their elders past and present and commit to ensuring APA operates in a fair and ethical manner that respects First Nations peoples' rights and interests.

Corporate Governance Statement

Corporate Governance at APA

APA Group (APA) comprises two registered managed investment schemes, APA Infrastructure Trust and APA Investment Trust, the securities of which are “stapled” together and traded on the ASX.

APA Group Limited (Responsible Entity) is the responsible entity of those trusts and is responsible for APA’s corporate governance practices.

The board of directors of the Responsible Entity (Board) and our management team are committed to conducting APA’s business in accordance with high standards of corporate governance. We believe that robust corporate governance policies and practices help APA to create long-term value for Securityholders and to meet the expectations of other stakeholders.

Because of our stapled trust structure, there are certain governance and remuneration-related obligations under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) and the ASX Listing Rules that do not apply to us.

In line with the Board’s commitment to high standards of corporate governance, we have:

- adopted a Corporate Governance Framework (1 July 2017)
- entered into a related Deed Poll (adopted in 2004 and amended in 2011)

which together are designed to ensure that APA’s corporate governance regime is consistent, as far as is practicable, with best practice procedures of public listed companies.

Copies of our Corporate Governance Framework and related Deed Poll can be found on our website.

Throughout FY23, APA has complied with each of the recommendations of the ASX Corporate Governance Council’s Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (Fourth Edition) as outlined in this statement.

Corporate Governance Statement

This Corporate Governance Statement describes our corporate governance framework, including the key policies and practices supporting that framework for the period ending 30 June 2023 (‘FY23’ or ‘the reporting period’).

This statement is current as at 23 August 2023 and has been approved by the Board.

Further information about our corporate governance framework and key governance documents can be found on our website. APA Securityholders can also call 1800 992 312 (or +61 1800 992 312, if calling from outside Australia) to have a copy of the relevant material sent to them.

OUR CORPORATE GOVERNANCE FRAMEWORK

Our Board

Each director's biographical information, including their length of service on the Board, their relevant experiences and a list of other directorships held is included on pages 62 to 70 of the FY23 Annual Report.

Roles and Responsibilities

Board role

The Board is accountable to our Securityholders for the proper management of APA's business and affairs. Its role and responsibilities are set out in the Board Charter, which is published on our website.

The Board meets regularly in accordance with an annual schedule and whenever necessary to deal with any urgent matters which arise between scheduled meetings. The number of Board meetings held during the reporting period and Directors' attendance at those meetings are set out on page 70 of the FY23 Annual Report. The FY23 Annual Report is published on our website.

Board responsibilities

The Board is responsible for approving APA's Risk Appetite Statement, which is the risk framework in which the Board expects management to operate. The Board also approves our core values and purpose, strategic direction, corporate culture goals and our Code of Conduct.

In addition, as reflected in the Board Charter, the Board's responsibilities include:

- reviewing and considering the potential impacts of sustainability risks (including those relating to climate change) on APA's strategy and business
- receiving information regarding material breaches of the APA Code of Conduct
- approving APA's overall performance and remuneration strategy.

Management responsibilities

The Board delegates responsibility to the Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director (Managing Director) for:

- developing APA's strategic intent for approval by the Board
- implementing that strategic intent
- managing APA's day-to-day operations.

The Managing Director consults with the Chairman on sensitive, extraordinary or strategic matters. The Board regularly monitors the performance of the Managing Director and management. Where required, the Board challenges and provides feedback to the Managing Director and management.

The Board has approved specific limits of authority for the Managing Director in the day-to-day management of the business. The Managing Director has authority to sub-delegate to management up to those limits.

Role of the Chairman

Michael Fraser has acted as APA's Chairman since 27 October 2017.

The Chairman presides over Board meetings and the Annual Meeting of Securityholders. The Chairman is responsible for the effective operation of the Board, including that Board members have the opportunity for open and productive collaboration to explore ideas and generate collective views and wisdom necessary for the proper operation of APA. The Chairman also ensures that Board meetings are conducted competently and ethically.

The Chairman's responsibilities are set out in detail in the Board Charter.

Director independence

The Board assesses the independence of non-executive Directors when they are first appointed, and then annually. Our Independence of Directors Policy provides guidelines for assessing a director's independence, including considering whether:

- the director has been an employee of any APA entity in the last 3 years
- the director represents, or has been an officer or employee of, or professional adviser to, a substantial APA Securityholder in the last 3 years
- the director has been in a material business relationship (e.g. as a supplier, professional adviser, consultant or customer) with any APA entity in the last 3 years
- the director has been a director of APA for such a period that their independence from management may have been compromised.

Our Independence of Directors Policy can be found on our website.

The Board considers the Chairman and each current Director (other than the Managing Director) to be independent. The Managing Director is not considered independent given his executive role with APA.

The Independence of Directors Policy recognises that a Director's length of service may be a relevant factor in determining independence. In its most recent review of independence, the Board considered the length of service of each Director and was satisfied that each of those Directors continues to demonstrate independence from management and substantial Securityholders in performing their role on the Board and as members of the Committees.

Conflicts of interest

APA also has a Conflict of Interest Policy which sets out the actions that directors are required to take to avoid or mitigate the effects of any conflicts of interest that may arise.

Ongoing director development and access to information

During the reporting period, Directors had the opportunity to learn from and meet with a diverse group of APA managers, and received presentations from management on APA's key assets and business operations (both in person and virtually).

Directors were also briefed on industry developments, regulatory changes and a number of topics relevant to the Board's role in monitoring implementation of APA's strategic intent. These presentations included externally-facilitated sessions with subject matter experts on areas such as the energy market transition, climate change risk and reporting, developments in Health and Safety Laws and Officer Due Diligence.

The Board also conducted site visits to APA's Integrated Operations Centre in Brisbane, and the Diamantina Power Station and Dugald River Solar Farm in Mt Isa.

In addition, APA's external auditor updates the Audit & Finance Committee on developments in accounting standards and ASIC's key areas of focus in financial reporting.

Directors are otherwise encouraged to maintain the skills and knowledge they need to perform their roles by attending relevant courses, seminars and conferences. Where appropriate, APA will meet expenses involved in such activities. There is a review periodically to ensure Directors receive ongoing education in areas that will assist them to continue to discharge their roles effectively.

The Board collectively, and each Director individually, may seek independent professional advice at APA's expense. Prior approval from the Chairman is required, but this may not be unreasonably withheld.

Company Secretary

Amanda Cheney has acted as Company Secretary since 25 February 2020. Bronwyn Weir joined APA as an additional Company Secretary on 19 June 2023.

The Company Secretaries are accountable to the Board, through the Chairman, on all matters to do with the proper functioning of the Board. All Directors have direct access to the Company Secretaries.

The decision to remove or appoint a Company Secretary requires the Board's approval.

Performance evaluation of management

The Managing Director and the executive leadership team have service contracts setting out their responsibilities, conditions of service and termination entitlements. APA conducts appropriate reference and background checks before appointing any senior executive.

Each senior executive, including the Managing Director, has a balanced scorecard of key performance indicators and objectives which reflects APA strategy and operational requirements.

The Chairman of the Board and the People & Remuneration Committee conducted the Managing Director's performance evaluation against the agreed scorecard and made a recommendation to the Board. The Managing Director assessed the performance of the other senior executives and reported to the People & Remuneration Committee and Board.

Remuneration Report

The Corporations Act does not require registered managed investment schemes like APA Infrastructure Trust and APA Investment Trust to include a Remuneration Report as part of the annual Directors' Report, but APA has chosen to do so for the reporting period and prior reporting periods.

The FY23 Remuneration Report explains APA's remuneration policies and practices for Key Management Personnel (KMP) which includes non-executive Directors, the Managing Director and selected other senior executives.

The Remuneration Report sets out details of the components of remuneration and total remuneration paid to the KMP over the reporting period and provides information about key remuneration policies.

The FY23 Remuneration Report can be found on pages 74 to 91 of the FY23 Annual Report.

Securityholder vote on Remuneration Report

Under APA's Corporate Governance Framework, Securityholders have the opportunity for an advisory vote on the adoption of the Remuneration Report. If "two strikes" are recorded against APA's Remuneration Report at two consecutive Annual Meetings, a spill resolution will be put to Securityholders. If that spill resolution is passed, the non-executive Directors of the Responsible Entity must stand for re-election at a standalone "Board spill meeting" of APA if they wish to continue in office.

Board Composition and Succession

Board composition

The Board determines its size and composition, subject to limits imposed by the Responsible Entity’s constitution. The constitution provides for a minimum of three Directors and a maximum of 12.

The composition of the Board is determined in accordance with the Board Charter, which includes the following requirements:

- a majority of the Board must be independent Directors
- the Chairman must be an independent Director
- a person cannot hold the positions of both Chairman and Managing Director.

Our current Board complies with each of those requirements.

Director nomination and succession

The Nomination Committee provides the Board with recommendations on succession planning, including the selection and appointment of new Directors.

The Nomination Committee reviews the size, composition and diversity of the Board. In conducting the review, the Committee considers the Board skills matrix and the tenure of each director.

When a director vacancy arises, the Nomination Committee and Board will determine the skills and experience required to ensure that the Board has appropriate independence, diversity and a balance of relevant skills and experience. The Nomination Committee will then engage a search firm to obtain a list of potential candidates who satisfy those requirements.

The Nomination Committee oversees interviews of the short-listed candidates, assessing them against the predefined requirements. The Committee also considers the candidates’ qualifications, background and personal qualities.

In the interest of gender diversity, the Board has determined that short-listed candidates for an available Board position must include at least one of each gender. In making its final choice, the Nomination Committee must also consider the Board’s target to maintain gender diversity of the Board at 40/40/20 recognising this may vary slightly depending on the size and required skills mix of the Board.

All prospective directors receive a formal letter of appointment which sets out their duties, APA’s expectations and the terms and conditions of their appointment.

Background checks

Before any person is appointed as a Director, APA undertakes background and reference checks that the Board considers appropriate in the circumstances. The Board and the Nomination Committee may engage the services of an external executive search firm to carry out these checks.

When a Director stands for election or re-election by Securityholders at an Annual Meeting, the relevant notice of meeting will include all material information in APA’s possession relevant to a decision on whether to elect or re-elect the Director including any relevant conflicts of interest.

Director re-election

If the Board appoints a Director to fill a vacancy or as an addition to the Board, the new Director will hold office until the end of the next general meeting of the Responsible Entity and will be eligible for re-election.

Under the Responsible Entity’s constitution one-third of our Directors must retire from office at the end of each Annual Meeting. The Managing Director and any Director who is standing for re-election after being appointed as an additional or replacement Director do not count towards this one third requirement.

If the calculation of that one-third is not a whole number, the number of Directors required to retire by this “rotation” process is rounded to the nearest whole number. Retiring Directors are eligible for re-election.

In addition, APA’s Corporate Governance Framework allows Securityholders to remove a Director from the Board by ordinary resolution. Where Securityholders pass a resolution to remove a Director, the Director will automatically vacate their office under the Responsible Entity’s constitution.

Securityholders rights to nominate directors

The Deed Poll gives Securityholders the right to nominate a person to fill any vacancy on the Board that arises on retirement of a Director under the “rotation” process or a Director appointed by the Board since the last Annual Meeting.

APA publishes a Calendar of Events for the reporting period which sets out the opening date and closing date for the receipt of nominations for Director.

If a Securityholder wishes to exercise their nomination right, they must send the Responsible Entity a signed nomination form and the nominee’s signed consent to act as a Director on or after the opening date for the receipt of nominations.

In the notice of meeting for an Annual Meeting, the Responsible Entity will advise Securityholders of all candidates who have been validly nominated for the position of Director, including the Responsible Entity’s nominations and nominations made by Securityholders in accordance with the process described above.

Securityholders will have the opportunity to vote on the nominations at the Annual Meeting.

Induction

APA provides an induction to newly appointed Directors. The scope of the induction is tailored for each Director and may include attendance at board meetings as an observer and briefing sessions with the senior management team, auditors and fellow Directors.

Prior to their appointment, new Directors are provided with an information pack containing:

- materials regarding the role as Director
- details of APA and the environment in which it operates, and
- copies of all Board Committee charters, policies and reports.

Performance reviews and evaluation

The Chairman is responsible for reviewing the performance of the Board and individual Directors annually and on an ongoing basis.

During the reporting period, APA undertook a performance review process for the Board, its Committees and individual Directors. As part of the review process, each Director completed a questionnaire in which the Director was asked to comment on the performance of management as it relates to the Board, the scope of matters elevated to the Board, the efficacy of Board administration, and the quality and presentation of information brought to the Board. The Chairman also sought feedback from members of the Executive Leadership Team on the performance of the Board. Feedback from the performance review process was discussed by the Board and will be included in the Board’s practices in FY24.

Board skills and experience

The Board considers that a diverse range of skills, experience and backgrounds is required on the Board to effectively govern APA’s business. It determines and periodically reviews the mix of skills and experience that it looks to achieve in its membership, paying attention to the expertise and diversity of existing Directors. When appointing a new Director, the Board considers candidates who will balance and complement those qualities and address any potential skills gaps required given APA’s strategic direction.

In light of this, Nino Ficca has recently been appointed as a new Director of APA. The Board’s priorities in selecting a new Director included identifying someone who would continue to help drive APA’s strategy in electricity transmission and future energy solutions for the energy transition. Nino brings extensive experience in strategic and operational roles within the energy sector, including a deep understanding of electricity transmission and distribution. Going forward, the combination of Nino’s skills and those of APA’s other Directors is an enhancement to the Board’s skills.

The Board is of the view that the current Directors possess an appropriate mix of skills, experience and expertise for the Board to effectively discharge its responsibilities and add value to APA by managing risks and taking advantage of opportunities. These competencies and the extent to which they are represented on the Board are set out below in the Board skills matrix.

The Directors consider that the level of skills on the Board is “strong” in respect of all the above categories where three or more Directors are represented, and “moderate” where two Directors are represented.

The Board considers that it is sufficient for one Director to have a formal legal background. During the reporting period, the Board and Board Committees have, where appropriate, engaged professional legal advisers to provide independent counsel and advice to assist in the consideration of relevant matters.

The skills and experience of our Board in respect of climate and sustainability matters positions APA well to actively participate in and support Australia’s energy transition. The Board also recognises that it must continue to learn about and assess relevant matters and risks as they evolve. The Board’s collective knowledge is supplemented by briefings from management as well as internal and external subject matter experts on topics such as climate, the energy transition and sustainability.

Board Committees

The Board has established five Committees to help it to exercise its responsibilities and provide it with recommendations and advice.

Each Committee has its own charter that sets out its role, membership requirements, authority and responsibilities. The Committee charters are reviewed annually and are available on our website. Each Committee keeps the full Board informed of any significant matters or recommendations requiring the Board's attention. All directors have access to all Board and Committee papers and meeting minutes.

During FY23, the Board reviewed the roles and responsibilities of the Board and its Committees, with a particular focus on sustainability-related matters (including climate change). Certain updates to the Charters and Board Committees commenced in October 2022.

The key changes made were:

- Sustainability focus: The Health, Safety, Environment & Heritage Committee was renamed the Safety & Sustainability Committee to reflect its greater involvement in strategy, risk and policy matters related to sustainability, heritage, environment (including climate), social and governance matters.
- Split of the Audit & Risk Management Committee: The former Audit & Risk Management Committee was divided into the "Audit & Finance Committee" and "Risk Management Committee" to facilitate a continued strong focus on the respective areas within each committee's remit.
- Sustainability input on remuneration: The People & Remuneration Committee charter now explicitly recognises the Safety and Sustainability Committee's role in providing feedback on APA's performance against sustainability-related remuneration targets.

The number of Board and committee meetings held during FY23, including directors' attendance can be found on page 70 of the FY23 Annual Report which is available on our website.

The Investor section of our website has a variety of information which may be of interest to Securityholders, including historical information about APA's distributions and security price, tax information, a key financial events calendar, contact details for APA's registry and links to key Securityholder forms as well as the reports, presentations and other documents referred to above.

Our website also has information about our Board and senior management, our assets, history and investments and the economic regulation to which some of those assets are subject. Our website can be accessed at apa.com.au.

Securityholders may choose to receive communications (including the Annual Report, Meeting Documents and Payment advices) electronically by notifying our Share Registry.

Phone and email access to Investor Relations personnel facilitates two way communications with our Securityholders and other stakeholders.

Annual Meetings

Because APA is made up of two stapled trusts, APA Infrastructure Trust and APA Investment Trust, it is not required by the Corporations Act to convene an annual general meeting. However, it elects to convene an Annual Meeting to report to Securityholders on the prior financial year's operations and performance and to give Securityholders the opportunity to ask questions.

APA encourages Securityholders to participate in our Annual Meeting. A Notice of Meeting setting out the agenda for the Annual Meeting and explaining resolutions on which Securityholders may vote is made available to Securityholders and to ASX prior to the meeting.

Securityholders who are unable to attend the Annual Meeting may appoint a proxy to vote on their behalf. A recording of the meeting is also uploaded onto APA's website which allows Securityholders who were unable to attend to view the proceedings.

At the Annual Meeting, the Chairman encourages questions and comments from Securityholders and seeks to ensure the meeting is managed to give Securityholders an opportunity to participate. Questions on operational matters may be answered by the Managing Director or another appropriate member of senior management.

Securityholders are also able to send written questions ahead of the meeting and, where there is a common theme to a number of questions, either the Chairman or the Managing Director will seek to provide an answer in their address.

Securityholders are also able to ask questions of APA's external auditor at the meeting.

All resolutions put to the Annual Meeting are decided by way of a poll.

Market disclosure

APA's Market Disclosure Policy aims to ensure that price sensitive information (whether positive or negative) is promptly released to ASX as required by the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act.

APA will not communicate price-sensitive information to any investor, broker, analyst, the media or other external party unless that information has been previously disclosed to the market through the ASX Market Announcement Platform.

Our Disclosure Committee is made up of the Managing Director, the Group General Counsel & Company Secretary and the Chief Financial Officer. All ASX announcements must be approved by the Disclosure Committee before they are released to the ASX Market Announcement Platform.

The Group General Counsel & Company Secretary is the nominated ASX contact.

All ASX announcements are posted on APA's website as soon as reasonably possible after notification to ASX. Copies of all ASX announcements are sent to Directors promptly after they are released to the market.

Risk Management

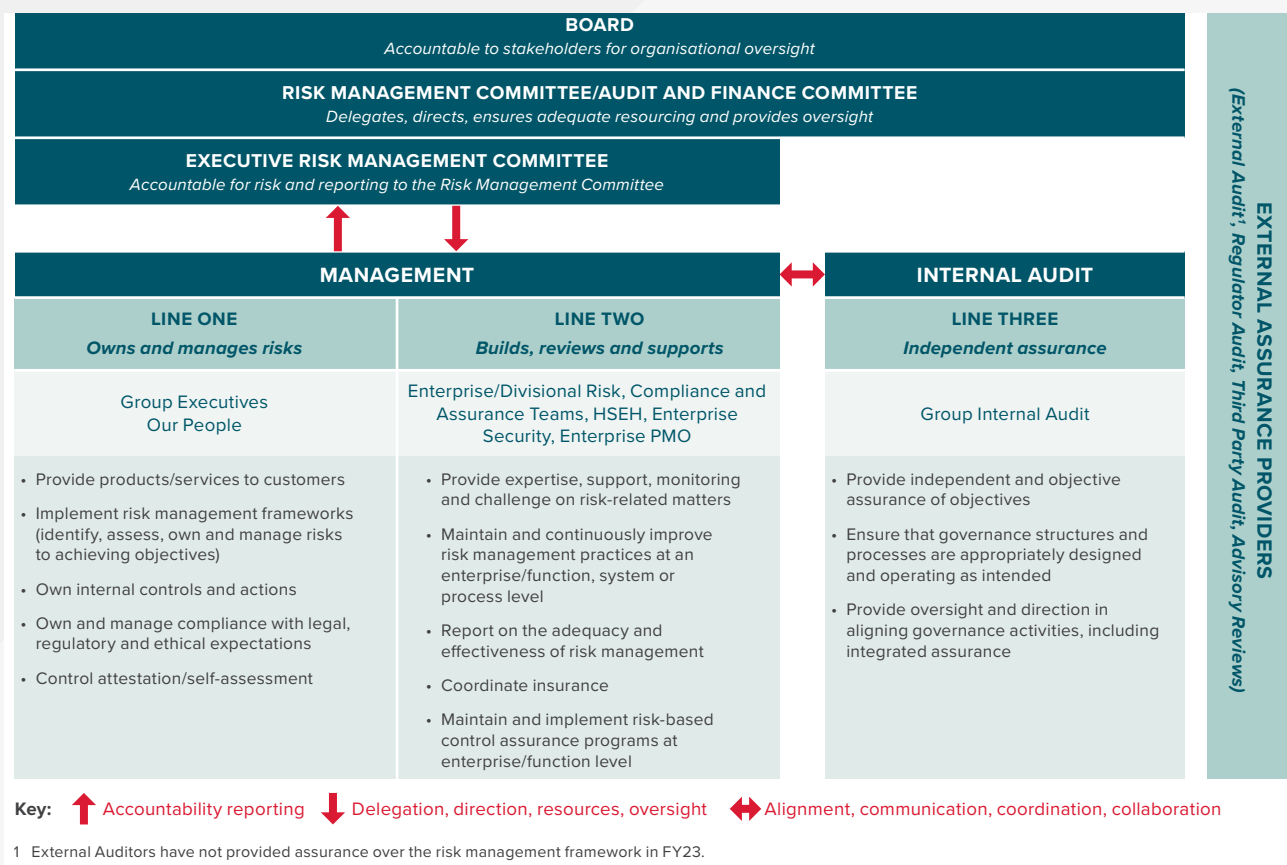

The management of risk is an essential part of our approach to creating long-term Securityholder value.

Board's oversight of risk management

The Board is responsible for effective risk management across APA and has delegated certain responsibilities for risk management to its Risk Management Committee.

The Risk Management Committee is responsible for providing oversight of risk policies and procedures for risk management and risk treatment plans and mitigating activities. This includes monitoring, overseeing and assessing the implementation and effectiveness of:

- APA's Risk Appetite Statement, which sets out the level of risk APA is prepared to take to meet its objectives
- the Risk Management Policy and the Risk Management System, which sets out APA's approach to risk management
- strategies to manage material risks and the effectiveness, resourcing and performance of APA's Risk Management function.

The Risk Management Committee reviews the risk management framework annually to confirm that the framework continues to be appropriate and that APA is operating within the risk appetite set by the Board.

APA examines all business activities, operations and projects to identify major risk exposures and has adopted ISO 31000, the international standard for risk management.

APA has four main types of risk:

Strategic Risk	Risks arising from the industry and geographical environments in which APA operates, including its markets, customers, brand and reputation and regulatory policy
Financial Risk	Risks arising from the management of APA's financial resources, accounting, tax and financial disclosure
Operational Risk	Risks arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, people or systems or from external events including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • construction and corporate projects • technology and cyber • environment, health and safety
Compliance Risk	Legal or regulatory risks arising in respect of laws, regulations, licences and recognised practising codes including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • health, safety and environment • asset construction and operation • other corporate compliance requirements

Information on APA's strategic risks, including sustainability, social and environmental risks can be found on pages 20 to 23 of the FY23 Annual Report.

During the reporting period, the Risk Management Committee received reports from APA's General Manager Risk, Compliance and Insurance (or relevant personnel) at each committee meeting. These reports included:

- an assessment of APA's material risks (including emerging risks)
- risk and compliance policy updates
- regulatory compliance updates
- IT disaster recovery, business continuity and emergency response testing updates
- information about any significant incidents or whistleblower investigations.

The Risk Management Committee also received reports from APA's General Manager Enterprise Security which included assessments of technology and cyber risks and updates on any Security of Critical Infrastructure legislative changes that occurred during the reporting period.

APA has internally reviewed our Risk Management Policy in the reporting period. The Risk Management Committee reviewed APA's performance against the current Risk Appetite Statement during the reporting period, and the Board approved several updates to reflect APA's current strategy.

Where APA's performance was outside its risk appetite during the reporting period, APA identified actions that would return most of the risks to target and developed plans to implement those actions.

Internal Audit

APA has developed a framework for internal audit within the APA Group.

Internal Audit reports to both the Chief Financial Officer and to the Audit & Finance Committee. By having a direct line to the Audit & Finance Committee, Internal Audit helps the Committee to bring an independent and objective perspective to its role of keeping the Board informed of the internal controls implemented to address APA's material risks. Internal Audit also assists senior management by providing independent assessments of the adequacy and effectiveness of risk management and internal control systems.

Internal audit activity is guided by a risk-based internal audit plan that is prepared in consultation with management and approved annually by the Audit & Finance Committee. At each of its meetings, the Audit & Finance Committee receives a report from Internal Audit on activities undertaken in accordance with the approved plan.

PricewaterhouseCoopers remained the primary internal audit service provider during the reporting period.

In an ongoing commitment to strengthen our governance practices, Internal Audit was recently split from Group Risk & Compliance and is now a standalone function. Additionally, the function began transitioning from the historical outsourced model to a co-source model which will enable greater internal focus and direction, while also ensuring access to specialist skills and expertise.

Assurance from Managing Director and Chief Financial Officer

Before the Board approves a financial report for a reporting period, it receives a written declaration from the Managing Director and the Chief Financial Officer that:

- in their opinion, APA's financial records have been properly maintained and that the financial report complies with the appropriate accounting standards and gives a true and fair view of APA's financial position and performance
- their opinion has been formed on the basis of a sound system of management and internal risk controls which is operating effectively.

The Board obtained such declarations for the full and half-year financial periods in the reporting period.

Review by Audit & Finance Committee

The Audit & Finance Committee reviews and discusses with management and the external auditor the half year and annual financial reports to ensure that:

- they reflect the understanding of the committee members and
- otherwise provide a true and fair view of the financial position and performance of APA as a basis for recommending to the Board whether the financial reports should be approved and adopted.

External auditor and their independence

The Audit & Finance Committee:

- receives reports from the external auditor
- monitors the auditor's effectiveness and independence
- makes recommendations to the Board on the appointment or replacement of the external auditor (subject to Securityholders' approval, if applicable).

The External Auditor Appointment and Independence Policy documents the process for appointment of the external auditor and for monitoring the auditor's independence. Pursuant to that policy, the lead partner and the review / concurring partner of the external auditor must be rotated at least every five years, followed by a two year minimum time-out period during which they may not take part in the audit.

Jamie Gatt and Jimmy McGarty of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu were the lead external audit partners for the reporting period.

The external auditor's independence could be (or be seen to be) impaired or compromised through the provision of some non-audit services or by the quantum of fees paid to the auditor for such services. The Audit & Finance Committee has approved:

- lists of permitted and prohibited of non-audit services relevant to the external auditor
- the approval process that must be followed in connection with permitted services.

Page 72 of the Directors' Report for the reporting period has a section on non-audit services provided by the auditor that includes an explanation of the basis on which the Board remains satisfied as to the auditor's independence.

Integrity in financial and corporate reporting

APA is committed to providing Securityholders and other external stakeholders with timely, consistent and transparent corporate reporting. The process followed to verify the integrity of APA's periodic corporate reports is tailored based on the nature of the relevant report, its subject matter and where it will be published.

The process adheres to several general principles including that the reports are prepared (or supervised) by a relevant subject matter expert, the reports should comply with law and are reviewed to ensure there is no inaccurate, false, misleading or deceptive information, and (if required) are authorised for release by the appropriate approver required under law or a relevant policy.

Information on APA's strategic risks, including sustainability, social and environmental risks can be found on pages 20 to 23 of the FY23 Annual Report.

Inclusion and Diversity

APA is committed to continue delivering our Inclusion and Diversity (I&D) strategy. This strategy was in its fourth year during the reporting period.

Our Inclusion and Diversity 2020 – 2025 commitments

The Board endorsed the updated 2020-2025 I&D strategy in October 2020. The strategy covers four primary areas of priority.

Gender Equity	We are committed to a level playing field by giving women and men the same chance to reach their potential.
Flexibility	Flex APA means we encourage flexible ways of working and empowering our people to think differently about where, when and how work is completed to meet the professional and personal goals, priorities and lifestyles.
Inclusive Culture	We are committed to creating an inclusive culture that values all people and addresses biases (age, cultural background, LBGTIQ, disability, indigenous).
Inclusive Leadership	Inclusive leadership means ensuring all our our people feel a sense of belonging , are treated fairly and respectfully , and all our people's voices are heard and valued .

Inclusion & Diversity Policy

Our I&D Policy supports our strategy by setting out our commitments and principles to establish a workplace that embraces diversity and builds an inclusive culture, so all our people feel safe, valued and trusted to do their best every day. Our I&D Policy can be found on our website.

Some key principles of this policy include:

- At APA, diversity means difference in thinking, background, sexual orientation, gender, ethnicity and other life experiences. We achieve more and are innovative and empowered when we have teams of people who can think differently but work together effectively
- The importance of inclusion is respecting and harnessing differences to create better outcomes for our customers
- I&D must go hand in hand. Only then do we benefit from the many unique perspectives of our people, to spark creativity that drives innovation

Our I&D Policy was refreshed in June 2023.

The People and Remuneration Committee of the APA Board provides governance and oversight of APA's I&D strategy and outcomes. Key to oversight is the establishment of targets and objectives.

During the reporting period, the Managing Director and Group Executive People Safety and Culture were set I&D objectives as part of their performance scorecards. The primary focus was on the completion of the Gender Target Action Plan activities for the reporting period as part of driving the achievement of the Gender Targets.

WGEA Reporting, Gender Profile and Targets

Our Board sets measurable objectives for achieving gender diversity in the composition of the board, senior executives and workforce.

APA has submitted 2023 data to the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA) and has published the final public WGEA reports. The data submitted reflects the period 1 April 2022 to 31 March 2023. The data can be accessed through the WGEA website.

In February 2022, the Board endorsed a recommendation from the Nomination Committee to target gender diversity of the Board at a 40/40/20 composition, recognising this may vary slightly depending on the size and required skills mix of the Board. At 30 June 2023, 50% of APA's non-executive directors were female. With the appointment of Nino Ficca to the APA Board from 1 September 2023, female representation will be 43%.

We are aiming to significantly increase the female participation in our workforce and have set targets to achieve this by 2025 so that APA's workforce reflects the communities and customers we serve. Those targets and our current progress against those targets are set out in the table below.

	Female % target by 2025	FY23 status against target
Total Workforce	40%	31.8%
Senior Leaders	30%	31.4%
Talent Pipeline	50%	49.2%
Extended Leadership	40%	35.6%

Inclusion and Diversity Working Groups

The I&D Steering Committee, chaired by the Managing Director, provides governance and strategic oversight of the delivery of APA's I&D strategy. This group works with the People, Safety and Culture team to deliver on our strategy.

During the reporting period the key achievements were:

Gender pay equity	Completed a gender pay equity review of like-for-like roles across APA in March 2023, and rectified all identified gaps. Further activities are underway to futureproof recruitment and performance processes to remove the potential for pay equity gaps to re-emerge.
Respect@Work	Launch of APA's Respect@Work procedure, which aligns with the Inclusion and Diversity Policy and the APA Code of Conduct. To complement this, we implemented a Respect@Work e-learning module, which encourages employees to speak up if they witness harmful behaviours, including unlawful discrimination, bullying, harassment, sexual harassment, sex-based harassment, vilification and victimisation.
Inclusive Leadership program	Refresh of content for our Inclusive Leadership development program. This program has been successfully delivered to our Executive Leadership team in March 2023 with rollout to General Managers and broader leader population to commence in August 2023. This program reviews unconscious bias, everyday sexism and the link between diversity and performance.
Hybrid @ APA	Further embedding of our Hybrid @ APA working model to improve flexibility for employees to work between APA offices and remotely. The model provides for 40% of Face-to-Face office collaboration over the span of a month, allowing employees the flexibility to manage their lifestyles and priorities outside of work.
Gender neutral parental leave	Launch of APA's enhanced gender-neutral parental leave benefits for all carers aligned to industry benchmarks.
Graduate and intern gender equality	Achieved 46% female representation in our 2023 Graduate program, and a 53% female representation in the 2022/23 intern programs.
National recognition days	Launch of targeted national campaigns to promote I&D aligned to national recognition days (i.e., Flexibility Day, International Women's Day events, Pride month, and NAIDOC Week).
Chief Executive Women	We became sponsors and partners for external body Chief Executive Women.

Leadership and Talent

APA continues to provide a strong focus on leadership and talent development, a critical element in the attraction and retention of a pipeline of leaders, building maintaining the organisation's overall capabilities for now and into the future.

APA is invested in growing the internal capability of our leaders to ensure we can help our people achieve their full career potential whilst working at APA. APA continues to invest in its talent by offering a suite of development courses, including:

- Ignite Talent Program, targeted at identified future leaders for APA. This 12-month program focuses on understanding self and leading others.
- Elevate Talent Program, designed for senior leaders who have been identified as successors for other critical leadership roles.
- INSEAD Leadership Curriculum, foundational development for all leaders which lifts the leadership capability bench strength overall to ensure consistent practice and strategic leadership. Our Executive Leadership completed this program in February and General Managers completed it in May 2023. The 1-week experiential learning program focused on developing the leadership capability of our senior leaders to lead the energy transition and APA transformation and focused on Personal Leadership, Interpersonal Leadership and Strategic Leadership.

We have continued to invest in capability within teams to ensure that we have collaboration and impact.

Culture of Acting Lawfully, Ethically and Responsibly

Our Purpose and Strategy

Our Purpose	To strengthen communities through responsible energy
Our Strategy	To be the partner of choice in delivering infrastructure solutions for the energy transition

Our code of conduct and policies

The Board and senior management are committed to ensuring that they and all of APA's workforce observe high standards of lawful, ethical behaviour and conduct. We are committed to our purpose of strengthening communities through responsible energy.

We achieve this by:

- Doing the right thing, even in tough situations
- Creating value for all our stakeholders
- Taking a long-term view
- Investing in future technologies and new energy
- Innovating for a sustainable future

Our Code of Conduct (Our Code) defines the key standards of personal conduct, professional behaviour and ethics that we expect of our directors, senior executives, employees, contractors and anyone else who represents APA. Our Code is approved by the Board and is published on our website.

Our Code provides practical examples to ensure that everyone is very clear on our expectations. As a fundamental policy, Our Code is part of any new employee's on-boarding program and central to the APA induction. All employees and contractors must undergo refresher training on a regular basis.

Any breaches of Our Code must be promptly reported and investigated, and we have processes to ensure that breaches can be reported without fear of retaliation or victimisation. Any material breaches of Our Code, along with results of any investigation and follow up actions, are reported to the Risk Management Committee at least quarterly.

Our behaviours

Our Code is underpinned by our APA behaviours which set an expectation for how we work and behave at APA.

Our behaviours are:

	COURAGEOUS We are honest and transparent; we learn from our mistakes and we challenge the status quo.
	ACCOUNTABLE We spend time on what matters, we do what we say and deliver world class solutions.
	NIMBLE We are curious, adaptive and future focused.
	COLLABORATIVE We are inclusive, work together and respect and listen to our stakeholders.
	IMPACTFUL We create positive legacies and work safely, for our customers, communities, our people and the environment.

Our Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy

Our Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy prohibits bribery and corruption in any form. The policy covers approvals for gifts, sponsorships, donations and entertainment, third party due diligence and provides for monitoring and reporting.

The Risk Management Committee is informed of any material breaches of the policy.

Our Anti Bribery and Corruption Policy is published on our website.

Our Whistleblower Policy

APA's Whistleblower Policy promotes and supports the reporting of matters of concern and suspected wrongdoing, such as dishonest or fraudulent conduct, breaches of legislation and other conduct that may cause financial loss to APA or be otherwise detrimental to its reputation or interests.

The Whistleblower Policy sets out the approach to disclosure, investigation and reporting and outlines the protection to be afforded to those who report such conduct against reprisals, discrimination, harassment or other disadvantage resulting from their reports. APA uses an external independent whistleblower reporting service that enables those who wish to report conduct (either anonymously or otherwise) to do so.

All disclosures received under the Whistleblower Policy are reported to the Risk Management Committee with details of investigations completed. The Whistleblower Policy is published on APA's website.

Our Securities Trading Policy

Our Securities Trading Policy is designed to:

- ensure that directors, employees and contractors are aware of their obligations under insider trading laws
- protect the reputation of APA, its directors, employees and contractors
- ensure that APA meets its obligations under the ASX Listing Rules to disclose directors' holdings in its securities.

Under the Securities Trading Policy, our directors, officers and contractors are prohibited from dealing in or encouraging others to deal in APA securities during any time when they have price-sensitive, non-public information (Inside Information). Passing on Inside Information to anyone who ought reasonably to be known to deal in APA securities is also prohibited.

APA policy prohibits participants in the Long Term Incentive and Short Term Incentive plans from using hedging or derivative financial products that operate to limit the economic risk of participants' unvested equity interests.

¹ "Corporate governance statement" is defined in Listing Rule 19.12 to mean the statement referred to in Listing Rule 4.10.3 which discloses the extent to which an entity has followed the recommendations set by the ASX Corporate Governance Council during a particular reporting period.

Listing Rule 4.10.3 requires an entity that is included in the official list as an ASX Listing to include in its annual report either a corporate governance statement that meets the requirements of that rule or the URL of the page on its website where such a statement is located. The corporate governance statement must disclose the extent to which the entity has followed the recommendations set by the ASX Corporate Governance Council during the reporting period. If the entity has not followed a recommendation for any part of the reporting period, its corporate governance statement must separately identify that recommendation and the period during which it was not followed and state its reasons for not following the recommendation and what (if any) alternative governance practices it adopted in lieu of the recommendation during that period.

Under Listing Rule 4.7.4, if an entity chooses to include its corporate governance statement on its website rather than in its annual report, it must lodge a copy of the corporate governance statement with ASX at the same time as it lodges its annual report with ASX. The corporate governance statement must be current as at the effective date specified in that statement for the purposes of Listing Rule 4.10.3.

Under Listing Rule 4.7.3, an entity must also lodge with ASX a completed Appendix 4G at the same time as it lodges its annual report with ASX. The Appendix 4G serves a dual purpose. It acts as a key designed to assist readers to locate the governance disclosures made by a listed entity under Listing Rule 4.10.3 and under the ASX Corporate Governance Council's recommendations. It also acts as a verification tool for listed entities to confirm that they have met the disclosure requirements of Listing Rule 4.10.3.

The Appendix 4G is not a substitute for, and is not to be confused with, the entity's corporate governance statement. They serve different purposes and an entity must produce each of them separately.
